Each year volunteers across the country commit to a day of service as a tribute to those lost in the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001, as well as the men and women who served in its aftermath. Utah's Day of Service is Saturday, Sept. 9, to honor the spirit demonstrated by the heroic first responders of 9/11 as well as the continued sacrifices made by members of the armed forces and their families.

Richfield City is fortunate to have great volunteers who are willing to serve the community. Service projects come in all shapes and sizes, and can be as simple as taking care of some weeds, which are in abundant supply this year, thanks to the wet winter!

Another way to help improve the community is to pick up the trash that collects in fences and around the city's parks. The area below the water tank also seems to accumulate a lot of trash, and would make a great cleanup project.

The city is working on organizing a few other service opportunities for willing volunteers, so check our website and Facebook page for other suggested projects.

A 9/11 Day of Service will also be held Wednesday, Sept. 13, from 1 – 7 p.m. at the Sevier County Fairgrounds with a blood drive, quilt tying and humanitarian projects.
